National Shire Show

Features the Professional Junior League of American Draft Horse Showing

By Charity Greenlee, Youth Committee Chair

The 2016 National Shire Show was a brilliant collection of teamsters, showmen, equine professionals, and Shire enthusiasts who descended on Des Moines, for the Iowa State Fair to exhibit their horses during the premier American Shire Show of the year. The jewel in the rough was the youth competitors, excellently represented by the accomplishments of Jonnie Biren, Austin Banga, Kennedy Deuschle, Michaela Boyle, and Anna Ruby. The mounted Iowa State Fair staff helped to clear the busy streets of the midway to make room as rigs, delivering 46 Shires, started to arrive on Friday, August 12th. These rigs brought not only the very best America has to offer of the Shire breed in the show arena, but the future of the Shire industry with these 5 junior exhibitors consisting of four ladies and one gentleman, ranging in age from 14 to 18. The next generation of Shire teamsters come from across America, a few come from draft horse families, a few are new to showing, but all showed extreme gumption and tremendous fortitude during three exhausting days of all-encompassing exhibitions. As the Belgian and

Shire youth squared off during the halter division, they competed in youth decorating, where both the junior and senior youth worked furiously to complete mane rolls, foretops, install stand-ups and even braid tails within 30 minutes. Youth showmanship, both junior and senior division, focused on the ability of the handler to show their horse with great results for the Shire exhibitors. Following the halter classes, the judge spent several minutes talking with the youth and explaining to the audience his reasoning, while giving positive pointers for improvement. Finally, the youth hitch classes, interspersed throughout the regular hitch competition, included cart and team classes, demonstrated that these young professionals are consummate teamsters as well as masters of time management. Aside from the amazing efforts of the youth exhibitors in the show ring, three of the five Shire hitches relied on the dedication of the kids who got up early in the morning to get their horses ready; washing, mucking, grooming, harnessing, hitching, working all day every day, then quickly changing into their show clothes, climbing up on the box to make it to the ring on time. Additionally, most of the youth ventured into the adult classes in under-saddle (both English and Western), Registered Shire Cart, and Team classes. We are so very proud of our youth, and we eagerly look forward as they develop their skills by continuing to excel in the draft horse industry much to the benefit of the Shire horse.

Secretary's — Report —

From the Book of Numbers for 2016:

Registrations – 92 (50 mares, 35 stallions, 7 geldings)

Transfers – 109 (65 mares, 35 stallions, 9 geldings)

Pending Registrations – 19 waiting on DNA

2016 Membership – 350

I attended my first ASHA National Show in Iowa. It was great to meet members and their families and horses. I was a bit overwhelmed at the size of the fairgrounds and the hospitality of Iowans.

The annual election is coming up and those who qualify to vote will be receiving their ballots in early November. This may not be the National election and may not seem as entertaining, but it is important to the American Shire Horse Association. You will be asked to vote for the people who will be representing your voice and your horses.

Hopefully you all get out there and promote memberships for the HOLIDAYS! What a great gift for someone – especially those who are just getting into Shires. I think a youth membership is a great way to get a young person involved in the Shire breed!

We really need and appreciate your support.

Sincerely,

Jan

A MESSAGE FROM YOUR

President

★ We have experienced a very good quarter for the ASHA. Our secretary has handled her job well and is getting to know more members each day.

★ It takes time to obtain the experience that is required to operate our needed functions and I feel she has adapted well and is handling her job in a professional manner.

★ We have hit a few speed bumps but at this time everything is in order. While we will always be confronted with scams and small civil disputes we are moving forward smoothly.

★ Our committee members are functioning well and we are looking forward to progress on our video, as well as plans for our annual meeting. I think you will find the education meeting very worthwhile and I am sure we will continue to make good progress at our annual business meeting.

★ Our election of new board members is on its way and we are looking forward to strong leadership for our future ASHA board.

★ We experienced a very strong National Shire Show under the leadership of Dandel Kinney. She did her usual outstanding job of carrying out an excellent National Shire Show. Karla Stoner and Jan our secretary assisted her in this event. This show had 4 six-horse hitches of Shires and 5 four-horse hitches. Refer to her comments in this newsletter about the show.

★ We plan to continue to utilize our more experienced members as mentors in the process of allowing more members to become involved in the leadership of this association.

★ If you are a chair of a committee I hope you will take this opportunity to meet with your members and look for ways that can benefit the association and move us forward.

★ As an association I feel we have made great strides forward while still holding on to a positive attitude. While we are a very small association, we need to develop even stronger commitments in promoting the Shire breed. All of us must put forth extra effort to propel us forward and provide a solid base for the Shire and its future.

2017 Annual Meeting

It's time to start planning to be at ASHA's Annual Meeting & Education Day. This year an exciting program is coming together in Oklahoma City, OK for the 3-day weekend in February.

Education Day will be on Saturday, February 18 at the Express Clydesdales barn in Yukon, just outside Oklahoma City. Don Langille of Meeker, OK will be our main presenter, discussing show preparation and the judge's perspective on what he sees in the ring. But Don is also a breeder, and he will explain why correct conformation, as judged in the ring, is even more important to breeders. What if you neither show nor breed? Correct conformation is what allows any horse to function in its assigned job. We will be able to use several horses from Express for this "hands-on" segment.

Other parts of the day are still being finalized, but we hope to have a talk about "wind surgery" in heavy horses and why they seem to be more susceptible to this problem than light horses, plus a presentation on the legal importance of consistent rules and policies for registries and their consistent application. As always during our meetings, sharing ideas with each other is important, so there will be lots of time for socializing. We particularly need your ideas about how ASHA is meaningful to you and how to increase membership.

Sunday and Monday we will hold our annual member and board meetings. The member meeting is an opportunity for all members to give the board input about what is important to them and ideas for ASHA. Several new directors will be joining the board, which will choose new officers on Monday.

Our headquarters for the weekend will be the Doubletree Hotel near the airport, 4410 SW 19th St., Oklahoma City. Call 405-685-4000 to reserve at the ASHA special group rate of $99 per night (K or QQ), including 2 full breakfast buffets per day per room. This rate will be available until Wednesday, February 1, 2017 or until our block is full. There is a restaurant in the hotel, and a happy hour 5 - 7pm each evening when they have reduced-price drinks and appetizers. The hotel has a pool and fitness center, a business center and a free airport shuttle.

Watch your mailbox and the ASHA website right after Christmas for the flyer with final details on the weekend and a reservation form. Plan to join us in Oklahoma City next February!

Mother Earth News Fair

By Dayla Kay Kohler

Every year thousands of back-to-basics people gather at the Mother Earth News Fair to exchange ideas and information. Kohler Farms, a Shire breeder from Walnut Cove, NC has been attending the event for 3 years now.

When the Livestock Conservancy decided to attend the first annual Mother Earth News Fair in Asheville, NC, they contacted me to see if I wanted to bring my heritage breed, the Shire horse. Without hesitation, I agreed to fill 3 stalls.

Having attended many events promoting the Shire, I am never surprised at the questions I receive. This event was different from any event I had ever attended. These people carried notebooks, iPads, briefcases, and took notes and asked intelligent questions. These people came prepared to learn!

Even though the stalls are thin-railed and allow for maximum exposure, I pull my display table forward and encourage people to walk right up and pet my Shires. I am also the only horse owner in attendance with an open-door policy. I encourage everyone to go in the stall and interact with the Shires, love on them up close, and take pictures. Those that ask are given a leg-up so they can sit on one of my horses while we chat about the history of the Shire. The entire experience really shows the 'gentle giant' personality of the Shire.

Next year they are going to allow me to give an educational talk about "Preserving the Shire" in the amphitheater. After the seminar, they are encouraging me to invite the crowd to the stalls so I can bring the Shires out and do a demonstration on their flexibility. They are also going to provide me with an extra stall so I can display more information on the Shire for people to read and take with them.

As the years go by, I am seeing more opportunities to increase the exposure of our Shires. The Mother Earth News Fair is just such a venue. I look forward to seeing some of you visit us in the barn in 2017!

Attendee, young Sebastian is sitting on Ms. Daisy. Ms. Daisy has attended the Fair every year! Hundreds of people, young and old, have sat on her!

Representing Shires

Jenson Shires Promotes the Breed at Two Events

By Clark Jenson
Jenson Shires • Blair, NE

Jenson Shires represented Shires at the Iowa Horse Exposition at the State fairgrounds in Des Moines, Iowa. There were approximately 12,500 in attendance with 52 breeds of horses represented. The Shire was the only one that had a foal at side. Jenson's Diplomat Destiny and her foal Dandy were on hand for the three days to allow children and interested adults to pet the foal and ask many questions. In addition to the breed display, two appearances each day were held in the main arena with a large crowd in attendance. While many breeds were displayed, the Shire mare and her foal were the hit of the arena each time they went out. Dandy took the opportunity to show off every time he got into the arena.

Jenson Shires also attended and displayed their Shires at the National Jumping and Dressage competition held at the Century Link Arena in Omaha, Nebraska. An educational section was set up to display various areas of interest and provide educational opportunities for participants at the event. Jenson's

Diplomat Destiny and her foal Dandy were on hand for the 4-day event. Only ten horse breeds were displayed before the audience, and the Shire was among this group. Jenson's Jane with her beauty and quiet disposition made a good showing for the Shire breed. We were with our mare and foal for four days letting the audience pet the foal and answering questions about the Shire breed. In addition to the breed display, there was an extensive educational section in the barn displaying many disciplines of the equine industry. We provided a large roll-down picture display of a Shire and a small boy with "hand" markings on the chart.

Volunteers at this display measured each child in hands. Each child received a small card with a picture of a Shire foal. The person running the display marked each child as a "stallion or mare" and their "height in hands" and they were given this card to show their participation in this event. Many pictures were also taken at this display.

Barn Hacks

Innovative Tips From a Fellow Farmer

By Tom Greenlee Jr.
Greenlee Farms • Pine Grove, PA

As I was looking at the mess of hay strewn about the otherwise tidy stall, I was disgusted with the wasted hay, seeing only money laying in the muck. I had contemplated adding slow feeding hay nets to each stall and had read several articles that esteemed the benefit to both the horses and handlers.

Off to the Ag store I went and now I was the proud owner of six shiny new hay nets (coincidentally made by the Shire Company). As I took stock of integrating the hay nets into my nightly routine of barn chores, I now faced the time wasting prospect of wrestling six bales of hay into these nets. Maybe you have asked yourself "How do I wrestle a full bale of hay into a cinch sack?"

There are a couple of different options. You might stand the bale up and then pull the hay net down around the corners of the bale, only cutting the strings once the bale is enclosed in the net. Or you try a barn hack: add a clean, trash can to your routine and hang the hay net inside the can with excess bag hanging out around the edges of the can. Next fill the bag with the amount of hay to fit your horses' dietary needs. Now stand back and reap the savings.

We went the extra step to hang these bags from the ceiling and fill them from the hay maul through a drop door into each stall. The horses seem to enjoy the diverting game of chasing their hanging piñata, and we have less wasted hay in the morning.

I recommend a trash can with a straight inside diameter (versus a tapered inside) as this will prevent compression of the bottom of the bale and allow more to fit into the hay net.

Have good ideas for a Barn Hack? Send them in to our illustrious editor, Janice Matlock at janicematlock@msn.com

Motions Passed at Sept. 20 Conference Call

- Approval of minutes of annual meeting
- Approval of minutes of May 10 meeting as amended
- Approval of rules committee recommendation re: bylaws amendment to be included on fall ballot
- Excuse absence of Heinz Naef – traveling for work and unable to call in
- Set next meeting date as Tuesday, November 1

UPDATE RULES COMMITTEE

The rules committee has unanimously recommended the following change to the ASHA Bylaws, and the Board agreed to put the question on the fall ballot.

Add the underlined phrase to Article V, Section 3:

The board of directors may remove a director for failure to attend any two of four consecutive regular or special meetings of the board of directors, or failure to attend the regular annual meeting, unless such absence is excused by a vote of the board during such meetings.

Background: A few years ago the bylaws were amended to make it clear that attendance at board conference calls was considered an important part of a director's responsibilities. However, the change inadvertently reduced the importance of attending the annual meeting. (Previously, the only cause for removal of a director by the board was failure to attend the annual meeting.) Under the current wording, a director could attend all conference calls but not the annual meeting, despite having pledged to do so in his or her candidate statement.

At the 2016 meeting the board asked the rules committee to see what change to the bylaws (which can only be changed by a vote of the membership) would clarify that attendance at all board meetings is critical to the proper functioning of ASHA and expected of all directors.

Please vote in favor of this change in November.

In other areas, the committee is continuing to review ASHA's paperwork to see what needs modernization or change. I've asked committee members to check out the forms and paperwork used by other registries, on the theory that it's easier to adopt and adapt those than to reinvent the wheel. If you have noticed something on the paperwork that you've used for another registry organization that you think ASHA should consider incorporating, please let any committee member know. Among the processes we are considering are forms for hardship cases as well as a statement on all ASHA forms that states that the signer agrees to follow our rules.

Our rules should probably also include, in these litigious times, explicit statements regarding the responsibilities of owners as well as the association when it comes to making applications for horses to be registered or transferred. We will also be reviewing recent developments in reproductive technology and whether we need rules changed in that area. We hope to present most of these at the annual meeting and will have a further update in the winter newsletter.

Who Owns the DNA Types?

Recently there have been a couple of situations in which the question has arisen, "Who owns the DNA type of a horse registered with ASHA?" The answer, not surprisingly, is "It depends," but in the vast majority of cases, ASHA does.

If a horse was DNA-typed as part of its registration with ASHA, ASHA paid the Veterinary Genetics Laboratory for the DNA typing after ASHA sent the owner a DNA "kit" (the paper in which to wrap hairs for mailing to VGL), and ASHA owns the resulting information, as specified in ASHA's contract with VGL. This is covered in our registration rules. Those cases have an SH-xxxx case number at VGL.

If a horse was DNA-typed as part of its registration with another Shire registry, that registry owns the DNA information, but the foreign registry will share that information with ASHA. However, ASHA does not have the right to order any new tests (for example a color test on the "leftover" hairs from the parentage testing) – only the registry originally paying can do that.

On rare occasions, an owner may have paid VGL privately to have his horse DNA-typed even though the cost is higher to have DNA typing (for parentage, color testing or another purpose) done privately. Those cases have an NQ-xxxx case number at VGL. Only the owner owns that information, though the owner can give VGL permission to let others (such as registries) use the information.

Lastly, if the non-Shire parent of a sport horse has been DNA-typed by another registry, that registry will usually allow VGL to parentage-verify the sport horse against both the Shire and the non-Shire parent.

What does all that mean to you as an owner? Mainly, it means that ASHA can use the DNA types it owns "as [it] determines is appropriate," to quote the rules. In general, that will happen when ASHA is trying to determine parentage of a foal or trying to identify a "lost" Shire. You can ask ASHA to utilize an existing "SH" sample (if, for example, you want to order a color test on your horse, or are not sure who sired a foal), but you cannot ask ASHA not to use an existing sample.

Five 4-Horse Hitches / Four 6-Horse Hitches

By Danelle Kinney, 2016 ASHA National Shire Show Coordinator

What an outstanding National Shire Show we had. Thank you to all who participated, those who came to help exhibitors, family and friends who came to watch, and to the Iowa State Fair for hosting us!

In its 162nd year, Iowa State Fair brought in an outstanding attendance. Well over a million people walked the fairgrounds with one third of this attendance during the Shire National Show alone.

Ten exhibitors from all across the US showcased their Shires. Two of these exhibitors were first time exhibitors at the Iowa State Fair: Greenlee Farms (Charity & Tom Greenlee) of Pine Grove, PA and Shires For Hire (Shawn Gordon) of Brighton, MO. They brought great depth to the show. The numbers increased from last year totaling 46 Shires, of which 17 showed in halter.

The Sunday exhibitor luncheon was well received again! Two special awards were presented with one going to Arlin Wareing for servicing the Shire for 50 years! What an accomplishment. A fleece blanket was given to Arlin with a photo of Jim's Chieftain on it noting 50 years of Shires with hot pink writing (his farm colors!). The other special recognition went to recently "hitched" Charity and Tom Greenlee.

They were married in July and a cake was enjoyed by all. Congratulations to the Mr. and Mrs.! This was a great kick-off to start the show!

I have included a complete sponsor listing and want to thank them again for their generosity. They made it possible to provide excellent awards including custom embroidered horse blankets, garment bags, boot bags, totes/duffel bags, engraved leather halters, custom director chairs, and lots of custom embroidered apparel. Usable awards were the motto again this year. These types of gifts are well received!

In conclusion, the show was a HUGE success and is a great venue for presenting the Shire to the public at this respected and historic event.

Fundraising: goal is $5000 for 2016 and 100% participation from ASHEF board members. Donations as of 09/01/2016 total $1000.00.

Website Development: Completed. Visit ASHEF at www.ashef.net or via the link on the ASHA website (www.shirehorse.org).

Shire Promotional Videos: All member submitted material was made available to two video producers in May for bids on the project and both felt the video portion of the submissions was not sufficient to meet the goals of our script. Submitted video material will still be used where needed for the project, but the committee decided to explore other avenues for obtaining necessary additional material, including RFD-TV, news stations (Rose Bowl Parade film, etc.) and specific members known to be active in areas needed for the script. Depending on success with this approach, some specific filming to script will be done. Unfortunately, this will require pushing the scheduled completion of the video into 2017.

The committee extends its sincere apologies to Danelle Kinney, whose name was not included on the list of members who submitted material by June 15th. The following list is complete as of press time:

Tom & Charity Greenlee • Jim Paulson
Rebecca James • Sandra Read
Clark Jenson • Audrey-Lyn Stockton
Danelle Kinney • Nancy Todd
Kim Murchison • Linda Young

Sponsorship for July Youth/Novice Congress – organized by the Clydesdale Breeders of the USA and the Percheron Horse Association for all youth and adult novices wishing to learn more about draft horse care and showing. It was held in July at the Alliant Energy Center in Madison, WI. ASHEF provided a $500 sponsorship which was used to help purchase the book "Draft Horses – An Owners Manual" by Mischka Press, for approximately 15 adults and 37 youths. Unfortunately, none of the participants this year were Shire people. Hopefully that can be corrected for 2017.

Online Auction of 1912 ASHA National Show Trophy Completed!! A piece of American Shire History was auctioned on ebay with the winning bid at $250.00. The successful bidder was Minette Alexander of Shreveport, LA. Thanks to Heinz Naef for hosting the auction for ASHEF. Along with the trophy, the winning bidder received some background history on the horse that won the trophy, including pedigree, breeder, importer, U.S. owners and a list of progeny. (Special thanks to Audrey-Lyn Stockton for help with the historical data.)

Cost share on Shire promotional events, ASHEF covered 50% of the booth costs for Equine Affaire in Ohio and Horse Progress Days in Indiana.

All-North-American Shire

The All-North-American (ANA) Committee is comprised of both ASHA and CSHA representatives. In this Bulletin, we'd like to feature the CSHA representative, Lindsay LaRiviere of Stony Plain, Alberta. Lindsay has been an integral part of the ANA team and provides great depth and direction.

Lindsay, owner of LaRiviere Farms, breeds and shows Shires locally and nationally within Canada. Pictured with Lindsay is a filly he bred, LaRiviere Ruskington Unique.

Recently he wrote an article for the CSHA newsletter featuring the importance of photos for the contest as he has judged a qualifying show, which in turn earned him a ballot vote in the contest. He offers the following comments:

"I did not realize the importance of the photo, but judging the horse from a photo should encourage the nominee to use professional pictures that truly highlight your horse in a way that can be judged accurately, showing the horse's excellence & superiority."

"These contests are a vehicle that we as Shire owners can promote and receive recognition for our own horses and our breed. It also promotes and recognizes the photographer, who requires patience, as we the exhibitor, set our horses ready for the perfect shot."

Meet Lindsay!!

Stallion Breeding Reports

If you were responsible for breeding any mares during 2016, your breeding season is probably over and this is a great time to file this year's stallion breeding report(s). You can find fillable forms on the ASHA website, or you can make a copy of the form on the opposite page.

Please note that only one stallion is reported on each form. It is possible that a mare may be listed on more than one stallion's report, depending on circumstances.

Note that if you initial the far right column for a mare, you will not need to sign the application for the resulting foal. For example, if you bred your own mare and then sell her during the winter, you can tell the buyer that it is their responsibility to register the foal, and that everything has been sent to the office to make that possible.

There are advantages to owners of both stallions and mares in using this system. Records are filed closer to the events, so they are likely to be more accurate. This also saves any problems resulting from missing stallion owner signatures on foals' applications, which can delay registrations for foals that owners are hoping to show.

Anyone who buys a bred mare this winter may want to verify with the seller that the stallion breeding report has been filed. There is no charge for these reports at this time.

Shires Featured in the Horse Illustrated Magazine

By Karla Stoner

The holiday issue of Horse Illustrated Magazine will have an exclusive portrait feature on the Shire. At the request of the magazine's editorial department, several pictures from the ASHA electronic photo album files were sent in for possible inclusion in the article.
